

CLASS OF 1830

HENRY HURLBURT

The Michigan Farmer & Western Agriculturist in 1845 was sold to and edited by Henry Hurlburt. In April, 1846, H. G. Woodhull became a partner. In December, 1847, Warren Isham, (Union 1821) began to conduct it, and with the new volume it was changed to a semi-monthly, and the price raised to $1.00 a year. In 1849 it was enlarged, and published both at Jackson and Detroit. (In 1850, Warren Isham was both editor and publisher)-----The History of Detroit & Michigan by Silas Farmer, 1884.

CLASS OF 1830

HENRY HURLBERT

Married Paulina Bradley, daughter of Gurdon Bradley and Phebe Smith on April 17, 1834. She was born June 30, 1812.

Henry Hurlbert was a graduate of Union College and in his early married life a teacher, but his health failing he removed to Michigan and took up a farm near Detroit, on which he lived for five or six years. Later he edited an agricultural paper, "The Michigan Farmer," In 1858, he removed to Minneapolis and for about seventeen years before his death he engaged in the lumber business. He always took a keen interest in politics and was an ardent Republican from the birth of the party to the end of his life. He was a thoughtful reader, just and charitable in his judgments, looked at both sides of a question and in case of persons tried to put himself in their place. He died December 13, 1867. His wife died in 1892.

CHILDREN:- 1. Harriet Paulina b. November 5, 1836
2. Alice Jane b. November 5, 1839.
d. January 2, 1858

Harriet Paulina married March 18, 1865, Bolton L. Taylor, a dentist. They reside in Minneapolis.

Their children are:- 1. Alice b. Aug. 20, 1866
2. Henry Hurlbert b. Sept. 11, 1868

FROM Genealogy of the Morris Family p. 309
Mrs. Lucy Ann (Morris) Carhart
A. S. Barnes Company
New York 1911.

S..... *HENRY HURLBURT. 1828

Born Sept. 23, 1808, at Fairfield, N. Y.; Died Dec. 13, 1867, at Minneapolis, Minn.

Entered from Fairfield, N. Y. .... A. B. 1830; A. M. 1833;  $\Phi$  B K.

Teacher and Editor. Engaged in post-graduate work at Union, 1832; taught in New York City 1833-35; then removed to Michigan on account of ill-health, where he spent five years in farming; established a school at Leoni, Mich., and taught there two years, when he removed to Jackson, Mich., and two years later to Detroit, where he resided a year and a half, when he was compelled by ill-health to give up all literary work, and engaged in farming, and subsequently in the lumber trade in the vicinity of Detroit; removed to Minneapolis, Minn., 1858, where he continued in the lumber business until his death.

Editor and publisher "Michigan Farmer," at Jackson two years, and at Detroit about eighteen months.

HENRY HURLBUT, 1830, of Fairfield, N.Y., was a member of the Adelpic Society.
Adelpic Catalogue 1830 (Died: 1867)

*John Henry Hurlbut. M.A. Hobart 1845
Union '30, M.A. Editor, Detroit, Mich.  $\Phi$  B K. D. Detroit, 18—. Hobart Cat.
p. 74.

Henry Hurlburt A.B. 1830

1830
Henry Hurlburt H. B.